PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Enthusiastic and ambitious individual with a keen interest in learning new coding languages, particularly drawn to the dynamic field of Software Development. I pursued in-depth studies in this domain at Kingston University, further fueling my passion and understanding. While my professional background lies in hospitality, I am actively seeking opportunities to transition into the realm of Software Development. My passion for bringing visual concepts to life, coupled with a strong commitment to continuous learning, positions me as a motivated candidate ready to contribute and grow within a dynamic development team. You can learn more about my journey and explore my portfolio at oliviersmith.com (still in works).
